

Defense Takes Over In Trial Of The Plumbers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prosecution is nearing the end of its case against John D. Ehrlichman and three others accused of plotting an illegal search of the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Ehrlichman's defense is expected to begin today and the former White House aide planned to take the stand to answer prosecution testimony that he approved the 1971 illicit entry into the office of Dr. Lewis J. Fielding of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Two other defendants, Miamians Bernard L. Barker and Eugenio R. Martinez, also are to testify in their own behalf.

Their attorney has indicated they believed they were working on a legitimate, if clandestine, CIA operation approved by the White House when they broke into Fielding's office Sept. 3, 1971.

The fourth defendant, G. Gordon Liddy, has refused to testify before grand juries and a congressional committee, and is expected to remain silent in the break-in trial.

The raid against Fielding's office was devised by the White House plumbers, a special investigative unit created to close news leaks. Their first mission was to investigate publication of the Pentagon Papers study of the Vietnam war, leaked to the press by Ellsberg.

Now that President Nixon has returned from Moscow, he is to be asked a series of questions in Ehrlichman's defense. The written questions and answers are to be admitted into evidence.

Testimony has shown it was Nixon who ordered Ehrlichman to probe the motives of Ellsberg when the Pentagon Papers were first published in the summer of 1971.

A defense subpoena also is to be issued to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Testimony is expected to end sometime next week.

Red Cosmonauts Work In Space

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts began carrying out experiments today inside the Salyut 3 space station after successfully docking their Soyuz capsule to the orbiting laboratory, Tass reported.

The Soviet news agency said the mission commander, Col. Pavel Popovich, and his flight engineer, Lt. Col. Yuri Artyukhin, took over the controls aboard Soyuz 14 for the last 325 feet to the linkup with the 18-ton Salyut. The earlier part of the approach was controlled from the ground.

The exact time of docking was not revealed, but Tass said it occurred today. There was no indication how long the two men would stay aboard the space station or when they would return to earth.

Salyut was launched on June 25, and the cosmonauts were sent up from the Baikonur space center in Kazakhstan Wednesday night in an effort to carry out the Soviet Union's first wholly successful operation involving a manned space station. The 1971 flight of Salyut 1 ended in disaster when its three crewmen were killed on the trip back to earth. The second Salyut was sent into orbit in 1973, but no crew was put aboard, and the station apparently broke up.

Tass said Popovich and Artyukhin, both 44, were feeling well and had begun to carry out their program of experiments aboard the station.

According to Tass, the work program includes studies of the earth's surface, the atmosphere, outer space, the effect of space flight on the cosmonauts and testing of the space station's "improved design and on-board systems and equipment."

The cosmonauts also are checking on the performance of the Soyuz spacecraft, which is to link up with a U.S. Apollo spaceship in the joint Soviet-American mission in July 1975. The last Soyuz mission was last December, when two cosmonauts orbited the earth for eight days in Soyuz 13.

An American crew for the joint mission now is training at the cosmonaut center near Moscow, and a spokesman for the group, Jack Reilly, reported about noon Thursday he had been told the Soyuz-Salyut linkup had been accomplished. Later in the day he said the Russians had informed him of the launching of the cosmonauts, not the docking. He said he could not explain the mixup.

Vicki Radcliff Crowned Queen Of The Fourth

Eighteen-year-old Miss Vicki Sue Radcliff, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. Dwight Radcliff, 121 W. Franklin St., was crowned Miss Ashville Fourth of July, Wednesday, in the 45th annual event.

Selected from 29 contestants, the petite Miss Radcliff was attired in a navy street-length dress with white trim and white accessories.

The 1974 Circleville High School graduate, when asked if she could be someone else, who would she be, stated she would want to be like her father.

The 5-foot 4½-inch brown hair, blue-eyed Miss Radcliff plans to attend Ohio State University majoring in special education.

Sponsored by WNRE the Ashville Fourth Committee presented her a dozen roses and large trophy.

Selected as first attendant was Miss Pamela Miller, 16, daughter of Mrs. Donald Thacker, Circleville, and Paul E. Miller Sr., Millport.

A junior at Teays Valley High School, Miss Miller stands 5-foot 3-inches and has light brown hair and brown eyes.

She plans to enroll in data processing at the Eastland Vocational School.

Featheringham's Gift Shop sponsored the first attendant.

Miss Debbie Harber, 18, daughter of Ronald Harber, 1955 Sioux Drive and Mrs. Marvin Wilson, was selected as the court's second attendant.

The 5-foot 4-inch, blonde hair, blue-eyed attendant was sponsored by La Beaute Boutique.

A 1974 graduate of Logan Elm High School, Miss Harber plans to attend Columbus Technical Institute majoring in architecture.

The 29 contestants were treated to dinner by Reynolds Metals at the Ashville Coffee Shop, with Bill Dountz as the official escort.

Judging the 29 lovely girls were Col. Edward Gehrkey, wing commander, Rickenbacker Air Force Base; Gary Gephart, personnel manager at Reynolds; Brenda Waugh Metzler, fashion coordinator, Jo Anne Dress Shop, Jackson and Bob Allen, WTVN-TV. Jerry Raser assisted as the Master of Ceremony with Art and Lou Deal serving as host and hostess.

Ferris Wheel Mishap Fatal At New Richmond

NEW RICHMOND, Ohio (AP) — An Amelia woman was killed and her husband seriously injured when they plunged about 25 feet from a ferris wheel at New Richmond's Independence Day street fair Thursday night.

The woman, Sharon Kahle, 20, died early today at a Cincinnati hospital. Her husband, Kenneth, also 20, was listed in "serious condition at Cincinnati Bethesda Hospital.

New Richmond Police Chief Harold Kennedy, who witnessed the accident, said a bolt holding the safety bar on the Kahle's seat apparently broke. Kennedy said Kahle grabbed for his wife, the seat tipped and both plunged to the pavement below.

The police chief said there were 20-25 people on the ferris wheel at the time and it was moving.

LOVELY LADIES—Miss Vicki Sue Radcliff, left, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. Dwight Radcliff, was selected by five judges, to reign as the 45th annual Miss Ashville Fourth of July during Wednesday's ceremonies. Serving on her court are: Miss Pamela Miller, center, first attendant, daughter of Paul E. Miller Sr., and Mrs. Donald Thacker and Miss Debbie Harber, right, second attendant, daughter of Ronald Harber and Mrs. Marvin Wilson. They are riding on the theme float, Our American Heritage.

Ohioans Enjoy Typical 4th Despite Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohioans enjoyed a typical hot, muggy Fourth of July, marred only by occasional rain and some threats of storms across most of the state.

The storm watch was most intense in an area extending from Chillicothe to Cleveland and including Columbus.

A funnel cloud was spotted in the late afternoon west of Sidney in the western part of the state.

A second funnel was spotted by the Clark County sheriff's department, two miles east of Enon at 4:41 p.m.

Neither cloud touched down and no damage was reported.

Thunderstorms forced postponement of bands and fireworks at Cleveland's July Fourth festival scheduled at Burke Lakefront Airport.

The display was rescheduled for July 27th, marking the last day of Cleveland's All-Nations downtown festival.

Showers hit Columbus in the early evening but cleared by nightfall allowing brilliant fireworks displays at areas across the city.

Kings Island amusement park, north of Cincinnati, staged a massive seven-minute fireworks show using a computer to synchronize the bursts.

"We had 143 people pay the $7 admission just to see the show," said a park spokesman.

The three-year-old amusement park, which sprawls over 850 acres, set an attendance record Thursday with 20,150. Previous high was 17,815 last year.

High winds and showers hit the area earlier in the day, but the skies cleared for the 10 p.m. display.

Campaign Finance Bill Filled With Loopholes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee has produced a Watergate-inspired campaign finance bill that creates new election rules but also new ways around them.

Senate-passed legislation and the bill approved by the House Administration Committee would establish limits on contributions and candidates' campaign spending.

However, critics in and out of Congress are going after loopholes in the House bill, some large enough, says a Common Cause lobbyist, for armored trucks to drive through.

Whether the loopholes can be closed or narrowed in the weeks ahead depends on conditions of debate to be set by the House Rules Committee. The Senate bill is regarded as loophole-free.

Reformers want unlimited chances to offer, debate and vote upon amendments.

But Administration Committee Chairman Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, is talking of seeking a rule allowing only a few amendments, maybe just floor tests on the controversial enforcement and public financing sections of his bill.

In the House bill-drafting sessions, the members seemed to create the loopholes while aiming at what many of them regarded as campaign nuisances.

For instance, Hays asked why a candidate who throws a fund-raising dinner at $25 per plate and pays $12.50 per plate to the hotel for the dinner should have to account publicly for the meal cost, and count the entire $25 toward his spending limit.

Going along, the panel voted to exempt fund-raising costs from counting toward spending limits, and to exempt candidates from even reporting these costs for public scrutiny.

But critics say this would allow any campaign activity to qualify as fund-raising. They say a half-hour network television broadcast need only carry a subtitle such as "send money" and the public will never know who paid for it, or how much it cost.

The panel voted again and limited the fund-raising exemption to 25 per cent of the campaign ceilings, which is

2 Drown In Ill-Fated Rescue Bid

RUSKIN, Fla. (AP) — "Two lives were traded for two others," a relative said after two young men drowned while helping save two other kin from deep water during a family Independence Day picnic.

Donald L. Thompkins, 17, and his brother-in-law, Lee Oliver Wilson, 20, drowned while helping to save Donald's brother, Timothy Thompkins, 9, and the Thompkins youths' uncle, James Rose, 27.

The Thompkins family—cousins, uncles, mother, brothers, sisters—gathered Thursday to celebrate the holiday with good food, swimming and games at E.G. Simmons Park near the tiny town of Ruskin, about 15 miles south of Tampa.

"But tonight we're a sad family," said Gloria Thompkins, 19, a sister.

Rose and Timothy had waded too far out in a man-made canal and stepped over a 20-foot dropoff, a sheriff's spokesman said.

Donald Thompkins and Wilson heard the cries for help, dove into the deep water, and gave the other two a shove. In doing so, both men went under.

up to $5 million for the presidential campaigns.

However, the panel did not mandate that the expenses be disclosed, and it did not rewrite its last draft to apply the limit to activities of political committees.

Another loophole was created by trying to do something for folks who have coffee and cookies in their homes while candidates talk.

Candidates should not be required to add up and report all these little expenses, Hays said, and the panel approved exemptions from limits and reporting for donations of real property, food and beverages and travel expenses.

Reps. Bill Frenzel, R-Minn., and John Brademas, D-Ind., said this provision would allow unlimited donations of cars, computer services, cash-raising banquets.

Nixon Clot Permanent

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon's doctor says Nixon was warned that a permanent blood clot in his left leg might kill him during his Middle East trip but that the President insisted on going ahead with travel plans.

"The danger is now past," Dr. Walter R. Tkach said late Thursday. Tkach for the first time disclosed Nixon has thrombophlebitis, which he said involves the presence of a permanent blood clot in his left leg.

"The clot is pretty well fixed," Tkach said, explaining it has attached itself to the wall of a vein and no longer is likely to break loose and go to his heart or lung—a development that could prove fatal.

An Army major general, Tkach said he considered hospitalization for Nixon at the time the President first told him of leg swelling. But he said Nixon, who had kept the ailment secret from him for several days, was insistent on going forward with his Middle East trip although "we told him what the potential hazards would be of a clot breaking off and hitting his heart or lung."

State School Board Eyes Territory Changes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Petitions for territory transfers between school districts dominate a heavy agenda before the State Board of Education on Monday.

The board also will consider allocating more than $3.9 million for vocational education construction in Columbus and Toledo.

Eight proposed territory transfers involving 14 school districts have been brought before the board by petition of the residents of the territories involved. A public hearing before a referee has been held in each case.

Referees have recommended approval of the following transfers: Bridgeport Exempted Village to Belmont County, Cambridge City to Newcomerstown Exempted Village, Celina City to Coldwater Exempted Village, Coldwater Exempted Village to Celina City, and Youngstown City to Campbell City.

The referees have denied the following transfers: Cincinnati City to Madeira City, Fairborn City to Montgomery County, and North Royalton City to Brecksville City.

The state board will either concur with these decisions, or if not, state reasons why.

In addition, the board will consider a request by the Newark City Board of Education to transfer territory to Newark schools from North Fork Local School District. Referees have recommended that the transfer be denied.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Martin W. Essex is expected to recommend that a referee be appointed and a public hearing be scheduled on a request by the Findlay City Board of Education to transfer territory recently annexed by the city to Findlay schools from the Van Buren Local School District, Hancock County. Van Buren opposes the proposed transfer.

The state board will consider allocation of $2.8 million in matching aid to Columbus City Schools for construction of the new Southeast Career Center.

An allocation of more than $1 million in matching aid to Toledo City Schools will be considered for construction of a vocational addition to Start High School.

In other business, Essex is expected to recommend that the board extend state foundation funding of the Bloomfield Mespo and Farmington local school districts, Trumbull County, through August.

In cooperation with the Trumbull County Board of Education, the two districts are in the process of forming a larger, new district. The board revoked the charters of the two districts in 1971 because they failed to meet minimum standards.

Other business on the state board's agenda includes:

—Consideration of charter requests for five parochial schools.

—Consideration of a proposal to dissolve the current Trumbull County Joint Vocational School District and to establish two vocational planning districts in Trumbull County.

—Allocation of $10,380 in federal work-study funds to six school districts to provide inschool work experience for disadvantaged young people.

—A request from the Van Wert County Area Joint Vocational School District to enlarge its board of education to include two representatives of the Paulding Exempted Village Board of Education and two representatives of the Paulding County Board of Education.

—Revocation of the teaching certificates of two persons who have been convicted of felonies.

—An increase in the mileage reimbursement rate for state board members from 10 cents to 12 cents in accordance with a similar increase granted to other state employees.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices weakened today in the face of a spreading 12 per cent prime lending rate.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was fractionally lower, and declines took a slight lead over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

New York's two biggest banks — First National City and Chase Manhattan — as well as large banks in Pittsburgh and Detroit joined this morning in a quarter-point increase in the prime which was posted by several banks on Wednesday.

Analysts said it appeared the strong upward pressures on money rates that have dogged the stock market for the past several months were continuing unabated.

Today's prices on the Big Board included Royal Dutch Petroleum, down 1/8 at 28; Kennecott, down 1/8 at 31 3/4; Ball Corp., down 1/2 at 9 3/4, and Kellogg, up 1/8 at 14 3/4.

The markets were closed Thursday for the July 4 holiday.

Nab Woodcutter In Triple Slaying

TRUCKEE, Calif. (AP) — Authorities were silent today about clues that led them to a brawny woodcutter sought in a triple slaying and the six-day kidnaping of three other persons.

John Wayne Card, 26, of Woodland, was arrested in this Northern California mountain town late Thursday by FBI agents and sheriff's deputies. The FBI said he was armed with a .45-caliber automatic pistol but offered no resistance.

Card's arrest came 10 hours after a widow and her two children, kidnaped last Friday, escaped from chains in a forest and walked to a ranger station.

Card was wanted for investigation in the slayings last Friday of a veterinarian, his wife and daughter of Willows, a farming community 70 miles north of Sacramento.

Authorities said he would be booked for investigation in the kidnapings and the slayings after being transferred to Willows in Glenn County, about 100 miles away, later today.

"All I'm concerned about is that he is in custody. That's a relief," Undersheriff Jim Kennon of Glenn County said.

Neither Kennon nor other authorities would reveal what led them to Truckee in the Sierra Nevadas 70 miles southwest of Reno, Nev., and the arrest of the 6-foot-2, 240-pound Card.

"We have been very close to him on several occasions," Kennon said. "We have been following our leads which led us to Truckee Thursday."

Card was sought in the death of Dr. Clayton B. Griffiths and his 13-year-old daughter, Lisa Ann. Both had been strangled with baling wire. Griffiths' wife, Nancy, was found shot to death in a field 20 miles from their home.

Officers have said they could determine no motive for the slayings.

Earlier Thursday, Kay Skillin, 34, her son, Wesley, 13, and her daughter, Debbie, 12, all of the Butte County farming community of Dayton, walked into a forest ranger station in Wilbur Springs, 55 miles northwest of Sacramento.

They told authorities they were chained to a tree Wednesday about a mile from the station. They said they worked their way free and walked to the station at daylight Thursday. Their captor had left plenty of food and water for them, they said, but they didn't know whether he planned to return.

Sheriff Joel McDermott of Colusa County said Mrs. Skillin told deputies they had been driven through parts of California, Nevada and Utah since their abduction, staying in motels and a truck camper. He described all three as "very tired" but apparently in good health.

John Reed, FBI agent in Sacramento, said Card was carrying more than $3,000 in cash when arrested. A .30-06-caliber rifle was found in a nearby vehicle Card had been driving, Reed said.

'Innocent Old Lady' Busy As Top Private Investigator

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — White-haired and 64, Florence Sperbeck tries hard to "look like an innocent old lady."

She should. She's a private investigator.

"It's a marvelous career field for women, and age is no barrier," said Mrs. Sperbeck, a tall, full-figured mother who investigates cases ranging from shoplifting to runaway juveniles.

"I believe, with many others, a woman is more disarming. People open the door and invite me in. They would never do that for a man."

She has a closet filled with wigs and change-of-personality costumes, a background in acting and professional police work, a quick wit and a fast tongue—all tools of the trade.

"All the things I've done in my life have brought me to this point—the

Holiday Traffic Toll Hits 136

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The nation's Fourth of July weekend traffic death toll reached 136 today as many persons interrupted holiday outings to return to work.

Showers and thunderstorms dampened activities in parts of the South and ranged northeastward into interior New England. Most other sections of the country were dry.

The National Safety Council estimated that between 450 and 550 persons would die on the nation's highways during the holiday period.

The count of traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and will end at midnight Sunday in each time zone.

Prince Fined In Speeding Case

BULLINGTON, England (AP) — Prince Michael of Kent won't be driving as planned in an auto rally next week. The prince, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, has become the first member of Britna's royal family to appear in court.

Prince Michael, 13th in line to the British throne, was fined $120 and ordered not to drive for three months after admitting on Thursday that he had driven his Ferrari at speeds up to 110 miles an hour.

Michael entered his guilty plea by letter, but was ordered by magistrates to appear in court. He did so, and a spokesman for Buckingham Palace said it was the first time a blood relative of Queen Elizabeth II had appeared in the dock.

Mr. Davis was registrar's assistant at the Chillicothe VA Hospital. A veteran of World War II, he was a retired chief petty officer after 30 years service in the Navy Reserve. For 18 years he was caretaker of Ross County Fairgrounds. He was past commander and finance officer of American Legion Post 757, a member of 46 & 8, VFW Post 108, Ross County Conservation League.

He is survived by his widow, Helen Hinton Davis; two sons, John H., stationed at Robbins Air Force Base, Georgia; Kevin, of the home; two daughters, Mrs. John (Sheila) Carroll, and Mrs. Lemuel (Kay) Ott, both of Chillicothe; two granddaughters; one brother, James Davis, Chillicothe; a half brother, Robert Davis, Circleville; a sister, Mrs. Lee (Betty) Winks Jr., Circleville; Mrs. Frank (Norma) Lovely, Route 2, Williamsport; Mrs. Richard (Jo) Magill, Chillicothe. He was preceded in death by two sisters.

The service will be held 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Haller Funeral Home, Chillicothe with the Rev. Eugene Williams officiating. Burial will be in Springbank Cemetery, Yellowbud.

The American Legion Post, 40 & 8 and VFW will provide military services. Members of the Navy Reserve will act as pallbearers.

Friends may call at the funeral home 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday. Memorial contributions to the Cancer Society would be appreciated by the family.

4 Persons Die On Ohio Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio's long holiday weekend traffic death count has edged up to four, but is still well below predictions of state highway safety officials.

Three of the four deaths reported so far have been in Clermont County, including two persons killed in a single accident.

Highway safety officials have forecast that 28 persons will die during the 104-hour period, which ends at midnight Sunday.

The dead:

FRIDAY
BATAVIA — Two unidentified men, in a head-on collision on Ohio 125, one mile west of Amelia in Clermont County.

THURSDAY
BATAVIA — Stephen Houk, 19, of Goshen, when his motorcycle collided with a car at the intersection of Ohio 131 and Ohio 727 in Clermont County north of Batavia.

ELYRIA — William Howard, 48, of Grafton, when his truck cab overturned near the intersection of Ohio 301 and Butternut Ridge Road in Lorain County.

New Citizens

MISS COOK
Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cook (Judith Moats), 235 E. High St., are the parents of a 5-pound 12 1/2-ounce daughter born 10:23 p.m. Thursday at Berger Hospital.

Shingles Taken

In Break-In

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Dan Dewey investigated a break-in at a building site on the South Bloomfield-Royalton Road between 10 p.m. Wednesday and 11 a.m. Thursday.

Robert Meency, Ashville, foreman, Relm Inc., reported thieves took shingles, estimated to be worth $198.

Two Men Sentenced

Two men were sentenced to penal institutions on criminal charges in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court during Wednesday's session of the court. Two men also appeared before Judge William Ammer on charges but requested the court appoint attorneys for them.

John Kincaid appeared on a charge of larceny by trick. Since he is currently serving time in the Ohio State Penitentiary on a sentence from Franklin County, the court sentenced him to six months to five years in the institution for the charge in this county. The court also ordered the sentence to run concurrently with the one from Franklin County which began Sept. 5, 1973.

A sentence in the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield for 1-10 years was suspended in the Mark Hankins case. Hankins was charged with carnal knowledge of a female under the age of 16 years. The court suspended the sentence and placed Hankins on probation for a period of three years.

Donovan McKnight and Larry Hedges both appeared before the court on charges of violation of probation and asked the court to appoint counsel to represent them.

The April Grand Jury will meet this afternoon in its third session to consider cases presented by the county prosecutor.

Ohioan Drowns In Maryland

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Drownings in Western Maryland apparently took the lives of two out-of-state residents Thursday, State Police reported.

The search for Robert Borek, 25, of Toledo, Ohio, was to resume this morning. Police said he told a companion he would swim as far as he could underwater and failed to reappear. The two were swimming at Four Locks near Big Spring.

The body of Rebecca Norris, 2, of Keyser, W.Va., was recovered from the Potomac River just east of Old Town Thursday night. The child apparently wandered off from a family picnic and fell into the water.

ORDINANCE NO. 943
AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS OF THE VILLAGE OF ASHVILLE, OHIO, FOR THE PUR-POSE OF PAYING COSTS OF IMPROVING AND ENLARGING THE WATERWORKS
SYSTEM OF THE VILLAGE, BY CON-STRUCTING WATER TREATMENT AND STORAGE FACILITIES TOGETHER WITH WATER LINES AND ALL NECESSARY
APPURTENANCES, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, notes of the Village have heretofore been issued in anticipation of the bonds herein authorized, as follows:

WHEREAS, the last series of notes just described is outstanding and is about to mature; and

WHEREAS, this Council hereby determines that bonds should be issued at this time to retire said outstanding notes; and

WHEREAS, the Clerk of the Village, as fiscal officer, has certified to this Council that the estimated life of the improvements hereinafter mentioned is at least five years;
and that the maximum maturity of the bonds hereinafter referred to is forty years.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED
by the Council of the Village of Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That it is deemed necessary to issue bonds of said Village in the aggregate principal amount of $200,000 for the purpose of paying costs of improving and enlarging the waterworks system of the Village by constructing water treatment and storage facilities together with water lines and all necessary appurtenances; that such bonds shall be issued in one installment; and that notes have been issued in anticipation of the issuance of such bonds.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be in the denomination of $5,000 each, shall be numbered from 1 to 40, both inclusive, shall be dated October 1, 1974, and shall bear interest at the rate of six and one-half per centum (6 1/2 per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually on the first day of June and the first day of December of each year beginning June 1, 1975, until the principal sum is paid; provided, however, that if said bonds are sold bearing a different rate of interest than hereinbefore specified, then the same bonds shall bear such rate of interest as may be provided in the resolution of Council approving the award thereof. Said bonds shall mature:

$10,000 on December 1 in each of the years 1975 to 1994, inclusive, which maturities are hereby determined to be in substantially equal annual installments.

Section 3. Said bonds shall be executed by the Mayor and Clerk and shall bear the corporate seal of said Village. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall bear the facsimile signature of the Clerk printed or lithographed thereon. They shall be designated "Waterworks System Improvement Bonds" and shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the legal depository of the Village, presently The Ashville Bank, Ashville, Ohio.

Section 4. For the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of bonds promptly when and as the same falls due, and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said serial bonds at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on the taxable property in the Village of Ashville, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period said bonds are to run in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay the interest upon said bonds as and when the same fall due, and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said serial bonds at maturity which tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11 of Article XII of the Constitution of Ohio.

Section 5. Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax shall be herby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with all interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds when and as the same falls due, provided, however, that in each year to the extent that the income from the waterworks system is available for the payment of such bonds and is appropriated for such purpose, the amount of such tax shall be reduced by the amount of such income so available and appropriated.

Section 6. That said bonds shall be first offered at par and accrued interest to the Clerk as officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund, and if said officer refused to take any or all of said bonds, then said bonds not so taken shall be advertised for public sale and sold in the manner provided by law. The proceeds from the sale of said bonds, except the premium and accrued interest thereon shall be used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose; the premium and accrued interest received from such sale shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied to the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds in the manner provided by law.

Section 7. The Village of Ashville hereby covenants that it will restrict the use of the proceeds of the bonds in such manner and to such extent, if any, as may be necessary after taking into account reasonable expectations at the time the debt is incurred, so that they will not constitute arbitrage bonds
under Section 103 (d) of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations prescribed under that section. The fiscal officer or any other officer of the Village, having responsibility with respect to the issuance of such bonds is authorized and directed to give an appropriate certificate on behalf of the Village, for inclusion in the transcript of proceedings,
setting forth the facts, estimates and circumstances and reasonable expectations regarding the amount and use of the proceeds of such bonds pursuant to said
Section 103 (d) and regulations thereunder.
Section 8. It is hereby determined that all acts, conditions and things necessary to be done precedent to and in and for the issuing of such bonds in order to make them legal, valid and binding obligations of said Village have been performed in regular and due form as required by law; that the full faith, credit and revenue of said Village shall be and are hereby irrevocably pledged for the prompt payment of the principal and interest thereof at maturity; and that no limitation of indebtedness or taxation, either statutory or constitutional, will be exceeded in issuing such bonds.

Section 9. That the Clerk of this Council is hereby authorized and directed to certify a copy of this ordinance to the Auditor of Pickaway County, Ohio, according to law.

Section 10. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of said Village and for the further reason that the immediate issuance of the bonds herein provided for is necessary to preserve the credit of the Village by retiring the outstanding notes issued in anticipation thereof;
wherefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately upon its passage.

A Page Of Opinion

Narrow Specialization

Few will deny, whether they belong to public education's critics or supporters, that the education system has undergone massive changes in recent decades. Where they differ is in the assessment of those changes.

One of the trends which is coming under increasing attack is the emphasis on specialization. As educational requirements and professional status of teachers has increased, so has the tendency toward specialization in a single subject. The old idea that one instructor could teach several subjects is vanishing.

There is much to be said for the quality specialization brings to any field, and education is no exception. One problem with it has been a narrowing of viewpoint which excludes fields of no primary interest to the teacher. Prime examples are frequent lack of interest in grammar, spelling or reading skills in science, history or other classes.

What seems to be contended here is that someone else ought to be teaching those basic skills. Perhaps so, but there are certain basic skills which any educated person ought to possess. A genius in science who cannot communicate intelligibly with others either orally or in writing not only limits his scope of effectiveness, but probably confuses many who come under his influence.

Mother's Husband

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK People . . . Places . . .

One of the great regrets of my life is that I never really knew my father. A man should know his father, goddammit. My father died just after I turned ten, next to youngest of his family of five. Our mother lived until she was 88, and she was a marvelous dame who kept us all together each year on what I've sometimes blown on a single dinner-party check at "21," or some such joint.

My father, who was born about now, so many years ago, accomplished wonderful things in life. He was a friend of Sam Gompers, the first great American labor leader, and also of the first great American Cardinal, James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore — champion of labor and of the separation of Church and State. My father organized poor exploited people such as tinners, of which he was one, and nickelodeon movie projectionists. I'll never know what guts that took.

Years and years after he died, I won a lot of silver-plated trophies as a tennis player. (I'm not sure he would have approved of tennis.) But the only trophy I display around my joint is a small pewter mug that my father won at the Central Labor Union outing at Bennings — a long-since-gone racetrack inside Washington, D.C. It is engraved "150 Yds. Dash — Won by J.W. Considine — Sept. 5, 1910."

His name was Jim.

Once, at the same sort of outing, I watched (through a knothole) a harness race between sulkies drawn by a pacer horse and, of all things, an ostrich. After the race, which I think the ostrich lost, alas, a man on the top of the wooden fence that surrounded the track jumped down and knocked me flat at the knothole. My father challenged him to a fist fight, and I was proud of him to the point of tears.

I never gave him a Father's Day present as a kid. Father's Day had not yet been invented by flacks from the whiskey, after-shaving-lotion, and lawn-mower trusts. Looking back, I don't think I ever said, "Thanks, Pop, for conceiving me," the very least a son should say in his lifetime. He died before I could learn that word. And it probably would have offended him. He never whipped any of us, but that might have been an exception.

My father was a big Knights of Columbus man: one of the founders of Spalding Council in Washington, D.C. He was of an age when men of his calibre sometimes stood up during a sermon and challenged some easy homilie being uttered from the pulpit. His father, my grandfather, had been murdered on Bladensburg Road, outside of Washington, when a group of militant Know Nothings had broken up their meeting. My father inherited the right to speak.

I remember, to my eternal regret, that I once asked him for a nickel as he lay on a couch, exhausted, at our house across from the Government Printing Office in Washington. He came up with the jitney, though it probably put a dent in his capital funds. What a joy it would have been for me if he had lived long enough to take him to the places I've been lucky enough to see.

I'm not sure my father would have liked Khrushchev, de Gaulle, Churchill, etc. or even St. Joan of Arc. (He didn't like any woman who wore armor.) But his comments would have been salty, God knows. My mother once told me that he had extracted a promise from her not to carry him off to Calvary Cemetery outside of Washington in a motor-driven hearse. He preferred, and got a horse-pulled hearse. And for good reason. "I'm in no hurry to go there," he told my mother.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

Just four weeks ago while my husband and I were visiting with friends we were discussing the Harrison Twp. Emergency squad and what a great sense of security it gives us to have such a well equipped unit to care for our emergency needs.

Before 11 a.m. the next morning I had occasion to call the unit for help when my husband suffered a coronary attack.

Within minutes three well-trained volunteer squadsmen, Bob Featheringham, Jim Deal and Bill Haddock arrived and began first aid. They called our doctor and took us to Grant Hospital.

We live near State Route 23 and many times a day I hear emergency sirens passing. This sound always fills me with fear, but the sound of the siren nearing our house that morning was one of the most beautiful sounds I have ever heard.

The calm assured manner of the men answering my call instilled complete confidence in their ability and helped to allay our fears.

Some of the 20 or more of these volunteers who have had many hours training in first aid, "stand by" on their days and hours off from their regular jobs to answer calls for help anytime, day or night.

I am most grateful to the three men who answered my call and to the voters of Harrison Twp. who made the unit possible.

MRS. HAROLD ACCORD
South Bloomfield

Dear Editor:

I want to comment on the Children's Services' efficiency in managing their bureau with the best interests of needy, homeless, abused and neglected children. The staff of the Children's Services, under the supervision of Mrs. Virginia Adkins, takes care of 200 to 250 children.

I also want to mention the extraordinary work of the case workers. They work with the Foster Parents, making sure they are aware of their responsibilities toward the placed children within their homes. Each child's welfare and medical attention is of prime concern. Because of this, the department maintains very strict rules, all of which must be adhered to by anyone who is a Foster Parent. These Foster Homes are continuously visited by the case workers. If a case worker feels a child has been abused, Mrs. Adkins calls the staff together for a review of the case and disposition is always in favor of the child.

It takes collective leadership on the part of the department to solve the delicate situations they have to face. This dedicated staff of the Children's Service Bureau located at 137½ Franklin Street, should be given a citation by our city officials for the excellent services they supply to the community.

With great respect,
ELIAS JOHN GEORGE

Dear Editor:

I urge all citizens concerned with stopping drug abuse to join in supporting House Bill 1090, the drug abuse control legislation.

As long as experts continue to report that 50 per cent of all crimes are drug-related and that theft adds 15 per cent to the cost of retail goods, I think we need stronger drug control in this state.

In March, the drug bill passed the Ohio House 89-3. Recently, the Senate Health and Education Committee recommended it for passage with a 7-1 vote.

The drug bill is now in the Senate Rules Committee which must approve it before it can go to the full Senate for a vote. Unless the Rules Committee schedules a vote on the bill, efforts at drug reform will be dead for two years.

House Bill 1090 is a comprehensive, effective and enlightened approach to drug abuse control. The bill has the endorsement of all major law enforcement, treatment and medical organizations in the State of Ohio.

The drug legislation is tough on the pusher: it carries mandatory penalties which mean convicted drug pushers are going to jail.

However, the drug user who wants treatment will be given every opportunity for rehabilitation with expanded treatment programs.

The bill is now stuck in the Senate Rules Committee and Senate President Pro-Tem Ted Gray will decide whether it will get to the full Senate for a vote.

If the people of Ohio agree that the Senate should be allowed to vote on drug reform, they can help by expressing their feeling to Senator Gray at 1401 Broadview Avenue, Columbus, Ohio 43212.

Sincerely,
WILLIAM J. BROWN
Attorney General

Unusual Will Declared Valid In Court Test

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Daniel Shapira of Youngstown found out Tuesday that he could have his choice of a wife or his share of his father's estate, but not both.

The Seventh District Court of Appeals ruled that Dr. David Shapira, who died here in April 1973, had not violated public policy by the unusual terms of his will.

Dr. Shapira's will declared that his sons must marry Jewish girls of Jewish parents within seven years of his death or lose their shares of his $100,000 estate. Daniel Shapira protested.

Dr. Shapira's other son, Mark Shapira of Cincinnati, has not protested his father's conditions.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Our 14-year-old son has enlargement of both breasts. He is so embarrassed he refuses to swim or indulge in any activity with his friends. What can be done about it?

Mrs. B. U., N.J.

Dear Mrs. U.:

This condition is known as "gynecomastic," or an abnormal enlargement of the breast glands in the male.

As you already suspect, the greatest problem associated with this condition is the psychological and emotional consequences, especially at the time of puberty.

The basic cause of gynecomastia is often a hormone imbalance of the male sex hormone, androgen.

Undoubtedly, the enlargement of the breasts was visible for some time. Had your son been studied by a hormone specialist, treatment might have been effective in preventing the progression of this condition.

I doubt that at his age the condition can be reversed. Yet I strongly suggest a thorough examination of the endocrine glands.

Parents very often refuse to come face to face with the problem, and hope that time alone will handle it. Such an attitude only permits the emotional overlays to become deeply ingrained and more difficult to eradicate.

Plastic surgeons and general surgeons can remove the overabundant breast tissue through incisions that will be barely visible. The surgery is safe, recovery is rapid, and the psychological rewards are enormous.

Is it ever possible to survive a brain operation with no after-effects?

Mr. E. McA., Calif.

Dear Mr. McA.:

There are some parts of the brain that are known as the "silent areas." This means an area of the brain where sight or hearing or the ability to speak and other functions are not involved.

It is conceivable that a small tumor in these places may not alter any of the vital functions, and when removed, can leave the patient without any after-effects.

The brain is a remarkably hardy organ with unbelievable powers of resistance.

To Durante

By JIM BISHOP

Name a man anybody can fall in love with at once. To my knowledge, there is only one: Mr. Jimmy Durante. He's the punchline of the play world, a man with a heart as big as his nose. When he smiles, it's akin to dropping a rock through a sheet of ice.

He's sick. Well, not exactly. He had a stroke a few years ago. He can drag himself around a little, but, unless a miracle occurs, James Francis will not be seen again, shouting, singing, slapping an old fedora against his thigh, and playing that rinky-dink ragtime.

Durante is one of a kind. He was born on Feb. 10, 1893, in the Cherry Hill section of New York. His old man ran an Italian barbershop, and Jimmy was taught to reach up on a shelf to fetch the proper shaving mug for the right customer.

His mother, Rosa, urged him to study piano. Of course, she expected Brahms, Beethoven, Chopin and Verdi. As soon as the kid learned the scales he punched out ragtime. He was rapping "Oh, You Beautiful Doll" before he understood what one was.

At 17, he begged his father's permission to form a five-piece band and earn a few bucks playing the hot dog joints on the Coney Island boardwalk. Barthelmeo was a serious man, but he said okay, but don't get into trouble.

The boy was, to be charitable, unattractive. He had eyes the size of sapphire chips, a nose like a briefcase, and a mouth just big enough to suck in one spaghetti at a time.

This was counterbalanced by an enormous and genuine love of people, a desire to please everybody, and an ability to make fun of himself. One more thing: he found it impossible to say a bad word about others, even those who hurt him.

He married Jeanne Olsen in 1916. It was a poor move, but Durante never admitted it. Whatever personal hell she built for him, Jimmy grinned it away and said, "She's okay." He would not divorce her. Jeanne lived until 1943.

Durante picked up two singing nuts named Lou Clayton and Eddie Jackson before he was 20. In the 1920s, they played to the gin crowd in West Side warehouses; they were loud and great and funny. All they needed was a loft, a battered upright piano, two spotlights and some tables and chairs.

They were raided. They were busted. The Prohibition agents hated to do it. In 1927, in spite of the fact that Durante was the leader and the premiere performer, Clayton, Jackson and Durante (note the order of names) opened at Loew's State in New York.

What is love? An indefinable affection: Whatever, New York fell in love with C. J. & D. The next year, Florenz Ziegfeld snapped them up for his Follies. After that, Hollywood and mountains of money. He did one picture called "The Passionate Plumber."

Durante was a star. He returned to Broadway with his name in big bright bulbs in such plays as "Strike Me Pink"; "Sally, Irene and Mary"; "George White's Scandals." When he appeared in "Red, Hot and Blue" with Ethel Merman in 1937, the producers put a new and funny kid into the cast: Bob Hope.

Later, Clayton, Jackson and Durante had their own radio show and, in time, their TV show. This is when he began his slow exit line through successive circles of light, tipping the old fedora and whispering, "Goodnight, Mrs. Calabash, wherever you are." There was no Mrs. Calabash.

Lou Clayton was dying in a California hospital. Jimmy tried to convince his partner he would live. So he put on a closed-circuit dress rehearsal of the next television show with a nonentity substituting for Lou. "See, pal," Durante exulted. "We need you. We're holding the spot open."

After Clayton died, the team was fractured, dead. But Durante kept Eddie Jackson with him, even though Eddie was aging and couldn't do much more than a cakewalk. The kid from Cherry Hill found a tall, dark, handsome boy with a real singing voice. His name was Sonny King. After he started with Durante, King refused offers of a career of his own. He told me he would stay with "Jimmy to the end." And he did.

In 1960, Durante, 67, married Marjorie Little and, for the first time, Jimmy had his personal goddess. They had a little girl. He bought a home at 511 North Beverly Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. He told me his greatest joy was to walk the little girl down to a playground, put her on ponies and swings, and laugh when she laughed.

A few years ago, he played a big hotel. I walked to a palatial suite of rooms with him. Under his arm he had a box of toasted cornflakes. "I like dem," he said. "I bring my own. The hotel furnishes the milk."

He is 81. He made millions and gave a lot of it to down-and-out actors. Now he limps and doesn't enunciate well. The world loved Jimmy Durante, but he's content with Margy and his little girl. One hopes the curtain doesn't descend for a long, long time. . .

Castoreum, a secretion of the beaver's musk glands, was regarded as a cure-all from the time of the early Greeks through at least the 18th century. National Geographic says. Castoreum contains salicylic acid, one of the main ingredients of aspirin.

They'll Do It Every Time

Inflation To Be Meat Price Problem

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Consumers plotting their shopping strategy will find lower meat prices for the next few weeks, but the bargains aren't likely to last unless the government can find a way of stopping inflation.

Anyone tempted to stock up now should remember that hoarding will eventually cut supply and simply drive the price right back up again.

Cattlemen recently withheld their beef from market because they weren't getting high enough prices for their livestock. They convinced the federal government to help with a $100-million purchase of beef and pork designed to give livestock producers a short-term shot in the arm and to convince consumers that meat was a good buy right now.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz keeps saying that meat is a good buy. He says Americans can't expect 55-cent-a-pound hamburger any more.

With a prod from the government, the National Association of Food Chains recently urged its members — retail stores — to feature beef and other meats. Advertisements indicate the price is coming down.

Administration officials hope that lower prices will encourage consumers to buy. That would bring to market the oversupply of meat that is on ranches and feedlots.

Once that meat has been sold, however, prices probably will rise again. The solution is to make it cheaper to produce the cow. That would mean the farmer could charge the packer less; the packer could charge the supermarket less; and the supermarket could charge you less — providing that inflation doesn't boost the cost of things like labor, rent and electricity.

In May, inflation was proceeding at an annual rate of 13.2 per cent. At the same time, the government marketbasket — the amount it costs a hypothetical family of 3.2 persons for farm-produced food — was 19 per cent higher than a year ago. Food prices were up 1.1 per cent in May, although there was a slight decline for meat.

Even the government doesn't know for sure what will happen next. Administration experts and private economists agree, however, that it's going to take some time before the up and down pattern of meat prices evens out.

The Agriculture Department purchase of meat for school lunches won't have much real effect on the market. Officials say it represents the amount of meat produced in only two or three days. But they hope it will have a psychological effect on the consumer.

What does all this mean? Should you go out and fill the freezer full of beef? The best advice seems to be: Buy what you need. But don't stock up with the idea of hoarding a year's supply. That's what happened last year during the freeze on beef prices. Americans, hearing warnings of withholding by cattlemen, bought heavily and the buying created a shortage.

The same thing could happen again. Lower meat prices over the long run — and that means up to two years — depend on lower feed prices. And lower feed prices depend on more grain.

The Agriculture Department said Monday that there will be record corn and wheat harvests this year, but they said the crops won't be as big as had been predicted.

There were record corn and grain harvests last year, too. Why, then, is the price of feed grains soaring? Exports are one reason.

In the wake of the Russian wheat deal in the summer of 1972, the price of grain doubled in a year. Farmers who had sold their wheat for about $1.50 a bushel before the Russian deal was announced were angry. They felt they had been cheated.

Last year and this year, they are holding on to the grain until they are sure they can get the highest possible price. Grain dealers in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas say that farmers have sold only 10 to 20 per cent of the harvest so far this year, compared to 50 or 60 per cent in a normal year.

On June 18, the wheat was selling for $3.99 a bushel and it has been going up fairly steadily since then.

American cattlemen aren't the only ones competing for the wheat and corn. Steadily rising demand around the world has meant a better market for U.S. farm exports and higher prices at home.

The Nixon administration wants to continue exporting farm products. The government sees exports as a way to freer world trade and reduced tariffs. It also sees the exports as a way to create a favorable balance of trade — getting more money for U.S. products than Americans spend for foreign goods.

North American eating habits account for the consumption of about a ton of grain a year per capita. One hundred fifty pounds of that is eaten as grain products; the rest is fed to cattle and indirectly consumed in meat. In the poorer countries, each person consumes about 400 pounds of grain a year — most of it directly.

As the poorer countries get richer, however, their people want better food — more meat, less rice. The demand increases again.

Experts who study worldwide trends in food and population say Americans are simply going to have to change their way of living and get used to eating less beef if the world is to have enough food. They noted that Americans have doubled their beef consumption in 20 years.

What's ahead? A lot of "ifs."

If the record U.S. grain harvest materialize, and if crops in the rest of the world are good, cutting the demand for U.S. foodstuffs, and if we don't have another fuel crisis and if inflation slows down, retail prices could come down again around the end of the year.

But it adds up to keeping a careful eye on the budget, looking for specials and developing a taste for casseroles.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Inner Beauty Hidden

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the "Double Ugly" guy whose ugliness is a curse because no one wants to associate with a physically ugly person. You said, "Ugliness-like beauty, lies in the eye of the beholder. The qualities that make one loved and wanted have nothing to do with the way one's face is formed. Honesty, patience, kindness, generosity—all the virtues—can be developed. A beautiful character counts for more with people who count, than physical beauty."

Abby, you missed the whole point. This ugly person should seek out the blind for friends. He should volunteer to help in a school for the blind, or get a job there.

They say if a deaf lion roars in the desert, there is no sound. Nothing looks ugly to those who cannot see, so forget all that rot about developing honesty, kindness and a beautiful character, and give the poor guy some practical advice. He might find what he's looking for in the world of the sightless.

PRAGMATIST

DEAR PRAG: Who says: "If a deaf lion roars in the desert, there is no sound?" Just because the lion can't hear the sound he makes, doesn't mean it's nonexistent.

To suggest that physically ugly people should seek out the blind in order to be loved is an insult to the sightless. Although they are unable to see physical ugliness, they are better able to "see" those qualities which are far more intrinsic to a persons real worth than physical beauty. So if a physically ugly person is an ugly character, he should stay away from the blind-for they may "see" him better than those with 20-20 vision.

DEAR ABBY: In reply to Double Ugly: I have never met an ugly person I didn't like. They have personality plus!

When I was a young girl, I learned the little fellows with the big freckles and the stringy red hair that hung in their yellowgreen eyes were the ones to ask a favor of. The handsome guys were too busy thinking about themselves.

Mr. Ugly, I like you already, for you have shown a lot of character and humility by asking for help with your problem. That is beauty right there! So you see, you aren't as ugly as you thought you were.

ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ABBY: When I first saw this nurse, I said to myself: "That has got to be the ugliest woman I've ever seen!" She was shaped like a pear, had a pockmarked complexion, an enormous nose and buck teeth, and she wore thick glasses.

But an hour later, after watching her work with disturbed children, and observing her gentle, patient, kind loving personality, I completely forgot about her looks.

Everyone who knew her adores her. She had the disposition of an angel and a way of bringing out the best in people. If I had to name the most beautiful woman I've ever met, I would have to say that nurse wins, hands down.

The Circleville Herald, Friday July 5, 1974

25th ANNIVERSARY—In celebration of their silver wedding Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Garrison of Clarksburg, will be honored at an open house hosted by their children. The couple was married July 6th, 1949 in Chillicothe, and are the parents of four children: James Maxson, Newcomerstown; Mrs. Howard (Carol) Martin, Somerville; Mrs. David (Marol) Morris, Fremont, Mich., and Donna Garrison of Columbus. There are 11 grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Garrison will greet their friends and family from 2-5 p.m. Sunday at their home.

Local Rainbow Assembly
To Observe Founders Day

July 8th will mark the 97th anniversary of the Rev. W. Mark Sexson, founder and author of the ritual of the International Order of the Rainbow for Girls. Supreme Assembly, the international group over all the grand assemblies located in 44 states and Canada, Australia, Germany, Canal Zone, Philippines, Japan, Okinawa, Puerto Rico and Guam at its session in January 1926, voted to celebrate this day in some fitting manner acceptable to the girlhood of the organization. Throughout Ohio the more than 196 assemblies will be observing this day with special events in memory of their founder.

Rainbow, a Masonic related group, has become one of the largest youth organizations in the world as over 1,000,000 teenage girls have been initiated into the order since its founding on April 6, 1922 in McAlester, Okla. Among its aims are the high standards of character building, which challenges its members to reach higher every day that life may be filled with charm and power, that every day may be a challenge to every other one, that each member should strive to move a little higher and reach a little farther out to find the secret of happiness and her own pot of gold.

Headquarters for the organization is in the International Temple in McAlester, Okla. and serving the Supreme Assembly are 34 supreme inspectors, one supreme organizer, and 25 supreme deputies. Serving as supreme inspector in Ohio is Mrs. Beatrice U. Owen of Barberton. The Supreme Assembly will observe its 52nd year when the members convene in New Orleans, La. on July 20th. Ohio maintains third place with a membership of over 13,000 girls.

On Sunday afternoon, July 7th the members of the Marie L. Hamilton Assembly 170 in Circleville and their families are planning a picnic to be held at Hargus Lake from 2-6 p.m. in connection with the founder's day program. For information regarding the outing call Miss Meri Gay Wood, worthy advisor or Mrs. Keitha Lane, mother advisor. All Rainbow Girls, their families, prospective members, Eastern Star and Masonic members are welcome to attend.

Garden Club Plans

Avocado Rustlers Hit California

FALLBROOK, Calif. (AP) — A standup comic could probably get 30 minutes and 90 laughs with tales of "The Avocado Rustlers," but it's no joke to growers of the fruit in Southern California.

Midway through this season's harvest, thieves have stolen almost $1 million worth of the state's $28-million crop. Most of the avocados are grown in the Fallbrook area, in San Diego County, and nestled among leathery leaves in often-fenced, rural orchards, the green fruit are tempting targets.

Many of the stolen avocados apparently are sold at cut-rate prices to independent food stores and roadside stands.

Growers generally get 45 cents a pound for the fruit.

"The losses are in the millions of pounds, not counting the penny-ante stuff such as 50 or 100 pounds, which are common losses," says G.J. Clasen, president of the Avocado Growers Bargaining Council.

"A grower lost 1,600 pounds once, and I'm not even considering thefts like that. Whole groves of 10 or 15 acres have been stripped completely."

A few ranchers and grove managers are carrying shotguns and have new watchdogs. Burglar alarm systems have been installed. Signs warn: "Avocado rustlers will be prosecuted."

But none of the measures — plus a state law making theft of more than $50 worth of avocados grand larceny and a growers' reward of $250 for information leading to conviction of fruit filchers — has deterred the thieves.

Sheriff's officers are trying to patrol the whole area, at least occasionally.

But says Deputy Sheriff Jerry McGuffin: "It's hard to see anyone in a grove, especially a mature grove. He can drive a truck in and elude you 100 feet away." He couldn't recall an arrest.

It is also difficult to prosecute. In the last year there have been no successful prosecutions of avocado thieves.

"We've had no cooperation from the sheriff's department, mainly because it's so difficult and the way the laws are written it's impossible to get a conviction," said Clasen.

"Once the fruit is off the trees, even if it's still in the grove and in boxes, you can't prove it came off those trees."

supervisor, thinks he has the answer with an idea borrowed from neighboring Imperial County where a person needs a bill of sale if found with so much hay.

If 40 pounds of avocados or more are found in a person's possession, he would have to prove ownership.

Ford Hikes Auto Prices

DETROIT (AP) — Prices for Ford Motor Co. cars and trucks built in North America are up an average of $58 today.

Ford, the nation's second largest auto manufacturer, announced the average 1.3 per cent increase in retail base prices Tuesday, citing higher steel costs as the principal reason.

The announcement came less than two months after company officials said there would be no further price increases this model year, and less than a week after Chrysler Corp. announced price increases, also attributed to higher steel costs.

The Chrysler increases, announced last Thursday, average $60, including $11 for options.

Including increases in shipping charges and options, Ford has raised prices an average $522 in four major increases within the past 10 months. Chrysler has raised prices an average $536 in six moves over the last 10 months. GM Prices have gone up an average $534 and AMC has raised prices an average $329.

Church Of England Losing Wealth

YORK, England (AP) — Inflation is draining away the wealth of the Church of England, but this enforced poverty may lead to spiritual enrichment, the next Archbishop of Canterbury said today.

Dr. Donald Coggan, the present Archbishop of York who succeeds Dr. Michael Ramsey in November and of spiritual leader of the church and of the worldwide Anglican Communion, cited a newspaper editorial that said Britain is facing an "inflationary disaster."

"These are grave and weighty words, and we neglect them at our peril," he told the General Synod of the church at the opening of its summer session.

"That the church in the coming years will be stripped of much of its possessions through the exigencies of the economic situation is almost certain. But must this be regarded as an unmitigated disaster?"

"Could it not be a case of God stripping His church for action? May it not be a means of revelation, a call to hear what the spirit is saying to the churches?"

The archbishop decried selfishness, the lack of a sense of vocation in many jobs and "an educational system which overdevelops the acquisitive and competitive instinct, rather than eliciting the wide variety of gifts which can be found in any given classroom full of children."

A number of churches in England have had to sell their gold and silver plate in recent months, both to maintain their parish work and the church buildings. The treasures are legacies and selling them has caused much controversy.

KEEPING IN STEP

You don't have to be "square" to go to church. The image of dour individuals with "holier-than-thou" attitudes is as old fashioned today as people dancing the minuet.

Take the Adamses, for example. They aren't youngsters, to be sure, but they are very much in step with the times, and their home is a haven for teenagers. Mr. Adams is a lawyer, who works with kids who have been in trouble. Mrs. Adams is on the local school committee and also helps the Girl Scouts.

The Adamses like to walk to church each Sunday and to discuss the sermon on the way home. Their minister is "with it" too—he strives to counsel his parishoners on the dilemmas that confront Christians today.

The Adamses, their minister, their church—all a part of today.

Are you?

New FBI Office Building Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 12 years of planning and construction, the FBI is preparing to move in September to a gigantic and costly new building towering over a full block of Pennsylvania Avenue.

The moving itself may take as long as eight months, FBI officials said.

When the transition is complete, the FBI's vast headquarters operations will be housed in one building for the first time and the building itself will become Washington's biggest monument to the man who dominated the agency for four decades, the late J. Edgar Hoover.

Named for Hoover after his death, the building was authorized by Congress in 1962, but it took another six years before construction began.

Sprawled halfway between the White House and the Capitol, the sand-colored concrete structure sits across the avenue from the FBI's parent agency, the Justice Department.

FBI executives and much of the headquarters staff currently use offices in the Justice Department building. But computer systems, the fingerprint division and some other operations are in eight buildings scattered around Washington.

Currently, the FBI must move hundreds of records from one location to another daily. The records, encased in locked metal boxes, are shuttled under guard in vans.

Thomas Jenkins, deputy associate FBI director in charge of administration, said no files have been lost or stolen in the shuttle service, "but you always run that chance the more you have to move them."

Jenkins said the new quarters will enable the FBI to increase its daily tourist capacity from 3,500 to 5,000.

The FBI tour is a popular attraction for Washington visitors, especially in the summer, when long waiting lines often form.

"We feel bad when we have to cut them off out there on 10th Street and they've come all the way from Seattle," he said.

Jenkins and Assistant Director Eugene Walsh said the structure's cost amounts to $126 million, more than double that first estimated by Congress a dozen years ago.

Constructed in one 11-story section and another seven-story section, the building will accommodate about 7,400 employees and contains underground parking for about 500. The structure surrounds a landscaped open courtyard with a fountain.

LOSING HOUSE—Mrs. Lillian Ware, 59, stands in front of her house in Evanston, Ill., north of Chicago. She is a practical nurse with a history of heart trouble who may lose her $25,000 house because she failed to pay $59.81 in taxes in penalties. The house was purchased by Chicago real estate firm that specializes in buying tax delinquent property.

ORDINANCE NO. 84
TO PROVIDE FOR CUTTING AND DESTROYING WEEDS, AND FOR THE COLLECTION OF THE COST THEREOF, AND TO PROVIDE A CRIMINAL SANCTION, TO REPEAL AN ORDINANCE AND TO DECLARE AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, this ordinance constitutes an emergency measure for the immediate preservation of the public property, health, or safety by reason of the emergency which exists in the Village of Ashville, in that noxious weeds are now growing and are about to spread or mature seeds; NOW THEREFORE

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE VILLAGE OF ASHVILLE, STATE OF OHIO: Section 1: That upon written information that noxious weeds are growing on lands within the corporate limits of the Village of Ashville, and are about to spread or mature seeds, the Ashville Village Council shall cause a written notice to be sent to the owner of such land, notifying him that noxious weeds are growing on such land, and that they must be cut within ten days after the service of such notice.

Section 2: That if the owner fails to comply with such notice, the Ashville Village Council shall cause such noxious weeds to be cut and may employ the necessary labor to perform such tasks. All expenses incurred shall be invoiced to the property owner.

Section 3: That if the owner fails to comply with such notice he shall be guilty of minor misdemeanor, and he shall be fined not more than Twenty-five Dollars ($25) for the first offense and not more than Fifty Dollars ($50) for each subsequent offense. Every day in which the owner does not comply with such notice shall constitute a separate violation of this ordinance.

Section 4: That any ordinance inconsistent to this ordinance to the extent of that inconsistency be herewith repealed; and that Ordinance No. 891 be rescinded in its entirety and be replaced by this ordinance. Section 5: That for reasons stated in the preamble hereto, which is made a part hereof, this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

Gilligan-Rhodes Race Said Close

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican state Chairman Kent B. McGough says a poll taken by the party shows a very close gubernatorial race between former Gov. James A. Rhodes and Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan.

The survey, taken in May and early June, also indicated all incumbent GOP officeholders were ahead and other Republican candidates were close enough to have a chance for victory, McGough said Tuesday.

McGough said the poll indicated that voters felt they weren't getting their money's worth from the state income tax, especially in education.

The Value Of A Job

EDITOR'S NOTE: The author of these articles is a free lance writer of newspaper articles and has written for The Herald on several occasions. He entered the Railway Mail Service as a substitute railway postal clerk in 1941 and retired in June 1973 as a supervisor in the Columbus Post office. During his career with the postal service he served in various capacities both as clerk and supervisor. He and his wife Louise live in Ashville.

Since his retirement from the postal service, Leatherwood manages his farms and is a real estate dealer. The last run of the highway post office on June 30 prompted this series of articles, in which Leatherwood recalls with fond memories his days as a railway postal clerk, retells some of the stories and legends of the service and expresses his opinions on what he terms "the steady deterioration of the mail service". Opinions expressed in these articles are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Herald.

By GUY H. LEATHERWOOD
When you become eligible to retire and employees call you "sir" and a few other epithets reserved for the "aged" such as "pop" and now and then "mister" you have to admit that maybe you are an old-timer. This state of affairs invites some reminiscing as to whether we have used our life to the best advantage.

But I believe most of us who have reached this milestone realize that the Postal Service has been pretty good to us after all. Think how it has been for so many of us who have never missed a paycheck, never been laid off, had a good vacation allowance and sick leave when everyone did not get these fringe benefits. As another old-timer used to tell the young substitutes "You need the mail service more than the mail service needs you."

This brings to mind a story which bears repeating if there are any who have not heard it in one version or another. Maybe some little incident helped you to decide your life's work. It seems that a young man thought the Postal Service would be the kind of life he would like. So he approached the local Postmaster and inquired about the possibilities of a job. The Postmaster replied "I know of your family and they have a good reputation so if you will sit down and write out an application, we will see what we can do about employing you."

The young man said, "I am sorry but I never got an education; there was a large family of us and I never got to go to school and I can't read nor write." The Postmaster was sympathetic but he explained in his fatherly way that a cardinal requirement of a postal employee is that he must be able to read and write.

Well, the young man had to have an income so he got a push-cart and began gathering rags and other castoffs. Since he was energetic, his business prospered and finally he bought an old truck. It wasn't long until he was able to buy a new truck and this led to the need of a fleet of trucks. So he approached the local banker about the problem. The banker heard his success story and told him that with a record like that he should be able to borrow about any amount he would need. "So", said the banker "Just fill out this application for a loan."

The applicant had to admit that he had never learned how to read and write.

The banker said, "I'm amazed that you have been so successful and you never learned to read and write. Where would you have been if you had had the advantages of an education?" "I would be working at the Post Office," the young man replied.

Campus Notes

TERESA TROUTMAN

Teresa Troutman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman, 155 E. Union St., has been named to the Dean's List at Ohio University in Athens for the spring quarter. She received a 3.4 average for the quarter bringing her accumulative average so far during her college career to 3.2. Miss Troutman will return to OU in the fall as a junior majoring in elementary education.

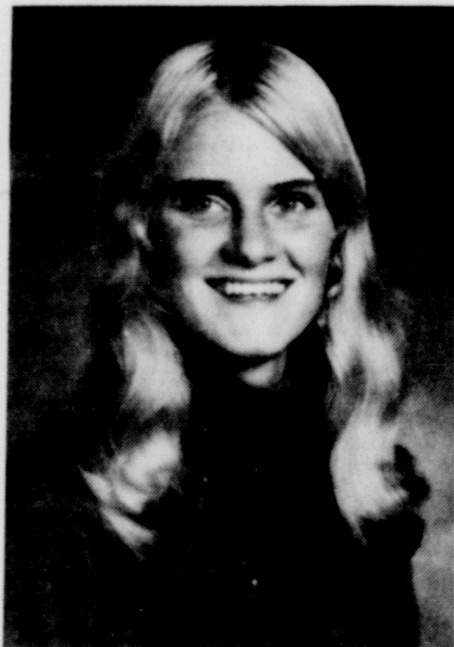

Three Circleville area residents were named to the Dean's List at Hocking Technical College. Kenneth S. Temple was one of the 36 students who attained a perfect 4.0 grade point average.

Melinda Henn and David W. Skaggs both were named to the Dean's List with a 3.0 or better grade point average.

Among the June 14 graduates from Columbus Technical Institute was Theresa I. Kerns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kerns, Route 1. She received an associate degree in animal health technology and is now qualified to be a veterinarian assistant.

Paul Knece, Stoutsville, has been named to the second semester Dean's List at Bluffton College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knece.

Students who received no grade below "B" and maintained a point-hour ratio of 3.3 for the semester were named to the list.

VICKY LYNN EITEL

Vicky Lynn Eitel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wilson, 326 Gary St., Ashville, has been accepted by Bliss Business College in Columbus. She is a 1974 graduate of Teays Valley High School and has chosen to take her training in secretarial science beginning Sept. 30.

Bliss College was founded in 1899 and since that time has been successfully training young men and women for business careers. The college is now located at 3770 N. High St.

Named to the Dean's List at Otterbein College for the spring semester were Melody Lu Steely, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Tarbill, 106 Collins Court and Robert L. Thomas, son of Mrs. Polly J. Thomas, 910 Atwater Ave.

Two units of "A" and no grade lower than "B" are required to attain the Dean's List rating. For the spring term at Otterbein, 234 students were named to the list.

Leslie Hauss Ryan, 172 Sunset Drive, is among the 38 participants in Project Breakthrough being conducted by Dr. Lyle Lehman of the area of special education at Ohio University. The project is a five-week (June 17-July 19), practical workshop designed to improve a teacher's effectiveness in working with children who have problems, by improving his diagnostic and prescriptive skills. The workshop is being held at the Tri-County Joint Vocational School in Nelsonville.

Graduated from Ohio University with a bachelor of science degree on June 8 was Diana Sue (McClelland) Eberts. Mrs. Eberts was recognized as graduating with high honor having achieved a 3.9 accumulative grade average on a 4.0 scale. She is a 1971 graduate of Vinton County High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClelland of McArthur. She is also the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Thornton of Logan Elm Village. Mrs. Eberts has been accepted into the graduate college at Ohio University and will begin her work toward a master's degree this summer.

Dorothy Green, 1236 Edgewood Drive, was among the 829 students who received master's degrees at the close of the spring semester of the University of Wisconsin at Madison. Miss Green was granted a master's degree in English.

Named to the Dean's List at Capital University during the second semester was Jennifer L. Doner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Doner, Stoutsville. A social work major, Miss Doner earned a grade point average of 3.5 for the semester and will be a senior at Capital this fall.

During her junior year, she served as assistant editor of "The Chimes", Capital University's student newspaper. She was also active in Metropolitan Ministries as well as the Student Social Work Association of which she was elected secretary for the 1974-75 school year.

In May, Miss Doner was nominated to Phi Alpha Upsilon, the national social work honorary society. She will serve as vice-president of this organization for the coming year.

MRS. ELAINE ROESE

Mrs. Bruce (Elaine Campbell) Roese recently received her master of science degree in speech and hearing from Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. She completed her degree work at Central Institute for the Deaf which constitutes the speech and hearing department of Washington University.

During the commencement exercises on May 24, the faculty of the Professional Training Program at Central Institute presented Mrs. Roese with the Max A. Goldstein Award for outstanding scholarship and professional promise.

She has concentrated her studies in the area of education for the deaf. Mrs. Roese is a 1969 graduate of Teays Valley High School and received her undergraduate degree in speech and hearing therapy from Bowling Green State University in 1972. She is the daughter of Leonard Campbell and the late Lois Campbell.

Sixty incoming freshmen have been accepted into the Purdue University Bands and four others will join the orchestra. Included in this select group is Dickerson W. Huskey, 322 Meadow Lane, who specializes in the trumpet.

Men and women joining the University Bands participate with the internationally-famous "All-American" Marching Band during the football season. Those not in the marching band play with the concert units during the season. The orchestra presents several formal concerts during the year.

At the close of the fall marching activities, freshmen take their places with upper-classmen in one of the five concert organizations.

A total of 2,360 students were named to the spring quarter honor's list for earning 3.5 or better grade points. Included in this group was Susan Lane Huskey, daughter of C. George Huskey, 322 Meadow Lane. Miss Huskey is a senior at Bowling Green and earned a perfect 4.0 average for the quarter.

Ohio University has announced the names of 1,027 seniors who graduated with honors and 294 who received graduate degrees at the 1974 spring commencement. They were among the 2,772 who were candidates for degrees for work completed during the spring session.

William Allen Cook, 61 East St., Ashville received a bachelor of general studies degree; Barbara Sue Edwards, Route 2, Ashville, a bachelor of science in education degree; Edward Louis McCord, 274 Plum St., Ashville, a bachelor of science in education degree.

Beverly Ann May, 481 E. Franklin St., was graduated during the ceremonies with a bachelor of science in education degree.

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Patriotism is difficult to explain to young people. Several children's books about famous people offer a personal statement on love of country. Clara Ingram Judson's book, "Abraham Lincoln Friend of the People" is considered by many scholars to be one of the best biographies of Lincoln for children.

Tucked in among the highlights of his political life are excerpts from his speeches. We surely want each generation to hear again the words spoken at Gettysburg in November, 1863; "... we here highly resolve that those dead shall not have died in vain ... and that government by the people, of the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth." There are many passages to show that Lincoln's patriotism was unpopular. After the war people complained he was too easy and that slaveholders should be punished. He knew that moving on to solve the problems of the newly freed slaves was more compelling than devising harsh penalties for the South.

Davy Crockett, scout and trapper, killed many Indians but only when they threatened the lives of the early settlers. When President Jackson tried to force the Indians off their valuable land, Davy Crockett took their side. He stood up in Congress and stated it was wrong for a single man to break the promises of the people's government. He understood the law of the land came before the settler's greed. So great was Andrew Jackson's popularity that Davey Crockett's views kept him from getting reelected to Congress.

Many of the men who loved the open spaces had a deep knowledge of a man's need for property. In Shannon Garst's book, "Kit Carson, Trail Blazer and Scout" we learn that the Indian fighter later tried to help their cause. He told them honestly they would only be allowed a small part of their former territory. But, he convinced them to stop warring as a nation and try to live alongside whites. He could see that a compromise of this kind benefited the country and the Indians were able to see the uselessness of further war.

A light approach to the serious subject of liberty is the new book "And Then What, Paul Revere?" Paul laid aside his comfortable, well paying jobs as a dentist, engraver and silversmith to actively oppose the English. He was a secret agent and, of course, an important messenger. On his ride to warn the settlers to begin battle against the British, he had to confront danger from English officers with guns. Apparently he was an adventurous soul who liked new challenges better than humdrum detail. "He once built a new barn and by mistake put it on a neighbor's property" the author tells us. Readers will chuckle at the self-conscious smiles of dentist Revere's customers with their cumbersome false teeth carved from hippopotamus tusks.

And Benjamin Franklin's ability to put duty before relaxation in his old life was really inspirational. But on his many trips across the Atlantic he was known to have jumped overboard to swim around the ship and observe the ocean. And to comfort his old achy body he would soak in his personal homemade tub in the ship's cabin while entertaining visitors. Read the Aulaire's biography of Franklin for other humorous sides to this wise man.

Do encourage the reading of biographies. Why not combine education and fun?

Malpractice Award Made

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A $150,000 malpractice verdict has been returned against Jewish Hospital and Cincinnati doctor by a Hamilton County Common Pleas jury.

The 12-member jury voted unanimous late Wednesday in favor of the claim made by the estate of Shirley Ann Wade, 18, who died more than five years ago.

Named with the hospital was Dr. Adolph Shor.

Blacks Join State Agency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three years ago there was only one black employe in an administrative position in Ohio's public welfare system.

Now, the department says, there are 13 black persons holding top management positions, or 18 per cent of the total management work force.

In a statement released today, the Welfare Department said 25.3 per cent of its professional staff and 29 per cent of its total employes are nonwhite.

In the last three months of 1973, 66.6 per cent of the new administrators and managers who were hired were non-white, as were 23 per cent of all new employes hired, according to the department.

During the first three months of this year, the department said, nearly a third of the new employes hired were non-white.

Softball Results

PICKAWAY COUNTY LEAGUE
Giovanni's (1) 15, PPG 4

Jack Allen and Ron Hill had two doubles and a single and Mike Herron and Dave Ogan powered triples to lead the win.

Rick Withers was the winning pitcher.

Merchants (2) 21, Giovanni's (2) 5
Big hitters for the Merchants were Steve Thomas and Mike Benroth who cracked homeruns.

Ronnie Leasure and Dale Imler were five for five at the plate, and Butch Watson, Terry and Gary Leasure, Vic Brannon, and Jim Ramey were impressive with their bats.

Steve Thomas was the winning pitcher while John Myers took the loss.

Dodgers Stop Reds

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers are out to prove they're not riding a bicycle built for two collapses in a row.
"Down with the Big Red Machine," said second baseman Dave Lopes after a two-run ninth-inning rally Thursday that produced a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati and dropped the defending National League West Division champion Reds a whopping 9½ games behind the runaway Dodgers.

David Pearson Wins Firecracker 400

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — David Pearson admits he needed a trick to win the Firecracker 400 stock car race for the third straight time Thursday.

Richard Petty called it a dirty trick. Pearson, 39, the gray fox of racing, and Petty, 37, the king to NASCAR fans, are both million-dollar career winners and respected for their courtesy and concern for safety.

But each accused the other of unsportsmanlike conduct as they jockeyed through the last of 160 laps around the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway.

Passing the grandstands—filled with a record crowd of 65,000—going into the final lap, Pearson suddenly cut the throttle of his Mercury, with Petty's Dodge right on his rear bumper.

"I never thought he'd let off that quickly with somebody so close behind," Petty fumed. "I had to let off. Otherwise I couldn't have turned the steering wheel fast enough to miss him."

Pearson complained that Petty tried to drive him into the pits in a sprint to the finish line off the final turn.

"I gave him a lane," countered Petty, not mentioning that it was the asphalt track apron he left open.

Tee Times Announced For ABCD Tourney At PCC

Youth Rides In Indiana Bike Tour

Tim Andrews of Upper Arlington, Ohio, was a successful participant in the "Indiana 200" bicycle tour June 29 and 30 at Indianapolis, Indiana.

Andrews is the son of the former Emogene Newton of Route 3, and the grandson of Mrs. Helen Newton and the late Albert Newton of Route 3.

The tour, 200 miles in length, left Indianapolis June 29 through the hilly Brown County section of Southern Indiana. The rules of the trip stipulated that the tour must be completed in 24 hours. The Arlington lad was fortunate enough to complete the strenuous ride in less than 16 hours.

Saturday's tour gave Andrews 876 miles of official logged bicycling for this year, with many more trips planned for the duration of the summer season.

Tim is a member of the American Youth Hostel—an organization for serious bicycle enthusiasts. He will enter his sophomore year at Ohio State University in the fall.

Confederate Yankee had raced seven times coming into the Kentucky Derby and was always in the money. In the Derby he finished 12th in the field of 23.

Expos nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 in the opener of a doubleheader but dropped the nightcap 3-2, the Philadelphia Phillies lost their opener to the New York Mets 5-3 and then ended an eight-game losing skid by taking the nightcap 6-2, the Houston Astros shaded the Atlanta Braves 4-3 in 10 innings and the San Francisco Giants trounced the San Diego Padres 9-2.

Cubs 3, Cardinals 2
Rookie Andre Thornton's double keyed a three-run fourth inning and Chicago held on to beat St. Louis.

Expos 2-2, Pirates 1-3
Richie Zisk doubled home the tying run in the eighth inning of the nightcap against rookie Dennis Blair after an intentional walk to Willie Stargell, and Bob Robertson followed with a game-winning sacrifice fly.

Pepe Frias drove in the deciding run for Montreal with a fluke double in the seventh inning of the opener.

Mets 5-2, Phillies 3-6
Wayne Twitchell, making only his second start of the season since knee surgery, pitched a five-hitter to help the Phillies end an eight-game losing streak in the nightcap. New York's Cleon Jones drove in four runs and John Milner homered in support of Jon Matlack's 10-strikeout pitching in the opener.

Astros 4, Braves 3
Cesar Cedeño doubled home the winning run in the 10th, off Tom House after a leadoff single by Roger Metzger.

Giants 9, Padres 2
Gary Matthews hit a tiebreaking two-run homer in the fourth inning, Ed Goodson drilled a three-run shot in the seventh and Tom Bradley registered his first victory since June 4.

Although it was a two-car race on the last lap, Buddy Baker in a Ford and Cale Yarborough in a Chevrolet had been contenders to that point. They finished in a dead heat for third, as not even a photo could separate them at the finish. Because of qualifying and equipment money, Baker had the bigger payday of $6,087 to Yarborough's $5,912.

Bobby Allison, taking a one-race ride in Roger Penske's Matador, was one of nine drivers who held the lead at various times and was very much in contention until valve trouble in the last 30 miles dropped him to fifth place for $4,650.

At 138.302 miles per hour, it was the slowest Firecracker 400 ever run. Indianapolis 500 winner Johnny Rutherford, starting next to last, smacked the outer concrete wall along the west turn when his Chevrolet engine exploded after only seven laps. He was taken to the hospital and checked but was uninjured.

Ed Sneed Milwaukee Open Leader

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "Of course," Ed Sneed said, surveying the scoreboard that showed him three shots clear of the field in the $130,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament, "you start thinking about winning."

"It's the thing that comes to mind. It's almost impossible not to think about it. But there's another 36 holes to go. I've got to just try and play as well as I did the first two rounds."

Sneed, riding a hot putter that has taken only 55 strokes in two rounds of play, put together a five-under-par 67 in Thursday's second round and extended his lead to three strokes midway through this chase for a $26,000 first prize.

His 133 total, 11 under par, was within one stroke of the best 36-hole total of the year on the pro tour, and left him well ahead of former Masters champion Tommy Aaron, alone in second with a pair of 68s and a 136 total.

Cesar Sanudo followed with 68-138 and Bob Zender and 70-139.
Lee Trevino moved into contention with a 69—despite a double bogey five—and was tied at 140 with Dave Hill, Chuck Courtney and Curtis Sifford.

Hill's 67 matched the best round of the windy day on the 7,010-yard, par-72 Tuckaway Country Club course. Courtney had a 69 and Sifford 72.

Youth Baseball Results

LITTLE LEAGUE MAJORS

Elks 14, Herald 5
Elks combined good hitting and good pitching to continue undefeated with their 8th win of the year.

Brian Detty and Mark Morrison were the winning pitchers walking two, fanning five, and allowing six hits. Mike Contino with a triple and a single and Jerry Ogan with a triple and a pair of singles lead the hitting attack. Mark Morrison hit a double and a single and Mark Agin had two singles to lend additional support.

Eric King with a triple and a double led the losers attack. Randy Wolfe added a double for the losers.

Wolfe was the losing pitcher walking five, fanning two, and allowing 12 hits.

Short Mare Wins At SD

Four Oaks Tia, owned by D.T. Hounshell of Mansfield and H.M. Barr of Berea, paced the mile in 2:07 to win the 10th race at Scioto Downs Thursday for driver Forrest Short, Circleville.

The mare paid $5.80, $4.40, and $4 for the win and teamed with Demonoras Dream for a $31.20 quinella.

Willie's Dillies

By A Benchwarmer

Willie would like nothing better than to get out of his Scioto St. house, that must seem like the county jail by now.

He's visiting the doctor Tuesday for his 10,000 mile checkup and hopes to get the okay to plan a walk to The Herald.

A boat ramp has been built by the Ohio Department of Natural Resources at the south end of the Circleville Canal to give hunters and fishermen easy access to the Scioto River. It is located on the Canal Rd., a quarter of a mile east of Route 104. A general parking lot is provided near the ramp for cars and trailers and should be used after boats are unloaded so as not to block the facility.

The Mini-Basketball Association will be having bi-monthly summer basketball tournaments in Columbus starting July 20. The association is for men six feet tall and under. Games are played on nine-foot goals and are officiated under NBA rules using the ABA's red, white, and blue basketballs.

Teams who wish to participate may contact Tom Fullove, 80 Shull Rd., Gahanna, 43230.

Dates of the 1974 City National Buckeye Tennis Championships have been moved forward one day to Aug. 13-19 to allow nationwide television coverage of the Monday night finals.

The Buckeye was selected as one of 11 major U.S. and Canadian tournaments on the summer grand prix circuit to be televised on the Public Broadcasting System.

It will be played at the Buckeye Boys Ranch Tennis Stadium in Grove City.

Fans who ordered season tickets for the entire seven-day tournament may use their tickets on the new dates. Fans who ordered individual session tickets for Saturday and Sunday must order additional tickets for the Monday final.

Fearless Forecasts - The Reds are dead for the year, and St. Louis will benefit by retraining their National League East lead in Riverfront this weekend... But don't count out the Indians, as they've already begun printing World Series tickets... Billy Zibor will astound the field in the Greater Milwaukee Open at Tuckaway Country Club... Hard-hitting Russian Olga Morozova will be smashing them against Chris Evert in the ladies singles finals at Wimbledon, England.

Until next time, have a nice day, be a good sport.

Chris Evert Faces Olga Morozova

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — America's Chris Evert was to meet her "very good friend" and doubles partner, Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union, in today's women's singles final of the All-England Tennis Championships, a match-up of two of the coolest competitors in the game.

Miss Evert, 19, from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., entered her second straight final here with a reputation as "the ice dolly." She lost to Billie Jean King last year.

Mrs. Morozova, 24, the wife of a Moscow electrical engineer, upset both Ms. King and Britain's Virginia Wade to become the first Russian to reach a Wimbledon final. Her name in Russian means "frost" and she too has nerves of ice.

In today's men's semifinals, third-seeded Jimmy Connors of Belleville, Ill., faced unranked Dick Stockton of Dallas and fourth-seeded Stan Smith of Sea Pines, S.C., took on ageless Australian Ken Rosewall, seeded No. 9.

Miss Evert reached the finals with a convincing 6-2, 6-3 victory over Australia's Kerry Melville. Mrs. Morozova had more trouble, coming from behind to beat Miss Wade, 1-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Chris Evert was talking to newsmen when she learned her finals opponent was to be Mrs. Morozova. The Florida girl was clearly disappointed.

"Olga is going to be very tough," Miss Evert said. "She is so consistent and so full of control of herself . . ."

Mrs. Morozova returned the compliment, praising Miss Evert as a cool customer "twice over."

World Cup Soccer Final Set Sunday

MUNICH (AP) — Sunday's World Cup soccer final will not exactly be a confrontation between Munich and Amsterdam, but for most of the 80,000 spectators at the Olympic Stadium it will seem like it.

More than half of the West German team plays for the Bayern Munich club and are local heroes. Most of the Dutch team has starred for Ajax of Amsterdam and are local favorites in the Dutch port city.

Munich residents will turn out in force for the game, by far the biggest sporting occasion in the city since the 1972 Olympics. Thousands of Dutch, mostly from Amsterdam, will stream south down the autobahns to cheer their players.

Seeing reasons why West Germany and The Netherlands are the two best teams in the tournament, most analysts have pointed to the club spirit which is the nucleus of both teams.

Among the West Germans, goalie Sepp Maier, defenders Franz Beckenbauer, Paul Breitner and Georg Schwarzenbeck, midfielder Uli Hoessner and striker Gerd Mueller play alongside each other in the Bayern lineup weekly through the German season.

On the Dutch team, defenders Arie Haan and Wim Suurbier, midfielders Ruud Krol and Johnny Neeskens and winger Johnny Rep are Ajax men. Johan Cruyff, the captain and Dutch superstar, used to play for Ajax too, until he was sold to Barcelona in the Spanish league.

U.S. Winner Of World Cage Game

CAGUAS, Puerto Rico (AP) — Coach Gene Bartow says he feels like he has two John Havliceks on the bench of the U.S. squad which has breezed through its first two games in the World Basketball Championships.

Bartow's super substitutes are 6-foot-11 Joe Meriweather of Southern Illinois and 6-3 guard Luther Burden of the University of Utah. They made their presence felt for the second straight time Thursday night as the Americans trounced Spain 114-71.

Havlicek played the role of relief man in his early years with the professional Boston Celtics before switching to a starting role. And, Bartow says, "Meriweather and Burden are starters—they just don't start."

"In international competition, you just have to have two or three players that come in with strong relief efforts."

Burden pumped in 22 points as he hit eight of 15 field goal shots and all six foul attempts against Spain. Meriweather had nine points and his four rebounds fail to adequately show his worth underneath the basket.

He has been an intimidating defender when in the game.

Lucas scored 25 points to top the U.S. squad against Spain and led a spurt which gave the Americans a 10-2 lead. Spain never threatened. The Spaniards, nearly as big as the Americans, had downed Argentina 96-89 in the opening round.

sitting on the bench is not worth anything."

An uneasy bench rider most of his major league baseball life, Hegan played an entire game for a change Thursday and contributed a productive bat to Milwaukee's 15-3 rout of the Cleveland Indians.

"It was like getting a birdie on the 18th hole," said a happy Hegan after driving in five runs with two homers. "You want to go out and do it every day. You look forward more to coming to the ballpark the next day when you do something like this, and that feeling usually carries over for the next couple of weeks."

Hegan, a baseball vagabond, is making his second appearance with Milwaukee. Along with the Brewers, the first baseman has played with the old Seattle Pilots, the Oakland A's and New York Yankees.

He got into the game against Cleveland only because regular George Scott was injured.

In the other American League games, the New York Yankees beat the Detroit Tigers 6-4; the Baltimore Orioles trimmed the Boston Red Sox 10-6; the Chicago White Sox bombed the Kansas City Royals 11-3; the Minnesota Twins defeated the Texas Rangers 3-1 and the Oakland A's turned back the California Angels 9-4.

Yanks 6, Tigers 4

Walt Williams' sacrifice fly, his first run batted in of the season, drove in the go-ahead tally in a three-run ninth inning that lifted New York over Detroit.

Orioles 10, Red Sox 6

Bobby Grich drove in three runs, one with his 13th homer, as Baltimore rolled past Boston to sweep their three-game series.

White Sox 11, Royals 3

Bill Melton drove in four runs on a solo homer and two singles as Chicago whipped Kansas City.

Twins 3, Rangers 1

Larry Hisle's two-run homer capped

a three-run rally in the ninth inning, carrying Minnesota over Texas.

A's 9, Angels 4

Vida Blue fired a five-hitter and Joe Rudi laced four hits, including a two-run homer, as Oakland completed a four-game sweep of California.

KNEE HIGH—Usually ecstatic with corn that's "knee high by the 4th of July," Pickaway County farmers should be clicking their heels over this year's crop. Angie Amey, who was knee high about three years ago, is dwarfed by the corn plantings near Ashville, which are about average when compared with other fields in the county.

Bob Hope Sees Patriotism Rising

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope says he thinks "patriotism is rampant" in the United States today.

Hope, 71, compared patriotism to marriage at a Fourth of July news conference here. "Patriotism is a lot like loving your wife," he said. "You don't run around the streets saying, 'I love my wife, I love my wife,' but you do."

Alan Osmond Sets Marriage Plans

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — She thought he was conceited. He thought she was giving him a rough time and decided to fight back.

That's how the courtship of Alan Osmond, of the singing Osmond Brothers, and Suzanne Pinegar, a college cheerleader, got started.

The two have now announced their engagement and plans to marry on Aug. 3.

MRS. JOE JENKINS — 474-5542

The sacrament of Holy Communion will be given at the morning worship service at the United Methodist Church on Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

Lucia Spangler hosted the June meeting of the King's Helpers Class, in the Methodist social room on Saturday evening.

The president, Lloyd Spung, opened the meeting with prayer, and the group sang "Rock of Ages" and "In the Garden". Betty McJunkin gave the secretary's report and Mable Cox gave the treasurer's report, and stated a donation had been given to Xenia relief fund, and the monthly donation had been given to the Shum's Boy's Home, near Sugar Grove.

Two contests, presented by Elva Mae Jenkins, were won by Roanne Spung.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Spangler to Mabel Cox, Genevieve Hedges, Ella Mae Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. George O'Hara and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spung and granddaughter, Tammy Spung.

Mrs. Carl O'Hara, of Phoenix, Ariz., arrived in Ohio on Friday, and after visiting the George O'Haras, went to Lancaster to help care for George O'Hara's brother's wife, Mrs. Henry O'Hara, who is seriously ill.

Tammy Spung returned by plane to Florida, after visiting for two weeks with the Lloyd Spungs.

The annual Firemen's Fish Fry, held at the Town Hall last Thursday evening, was a big success, with a ton of fish being consumed by those attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Donohoe, Circleville and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kerns and Steve, Route 1, Circleville, visited on Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Reichelderfer, and attended the fish fry.

Sakharov Ends Hungar Strike

MOSCOW (AP) Political dissident Andrei Sakharov said Thursday night he was ending a six-day hunger strike for medical reasons. He said he lost 17.6 pounds and complained of failing eyesight and feeling dizzy after six days of taking only water.

Sakharov began his hunger strike to protest treatment of political prisoners in Russia and to give force to an appeal made to President Nixon and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev on the eve of their Moscow summit.

Big Pizza Wiped Out In 2 Hours

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — They came, they bought, they ate and in two hours what was billed as the world's largest pizza was no more.

"It's all gone. It went up in about two hours," said Brad Louis, assistant manager of a local pizza parlor.

About 200 July Fourth revelers attacked the monster pizza which measured 30 feet, 10 inches across and represented a half ton of pasta, cheese and pepperoni.

It sold by the slice and all proceeds went to a community civic group.

Putting the pizza together was handled with military precision by nine local pizza parlors.

The first batch went into the oven at exactly 12:10 p.m. By 1 p.m. it was being assembled on a bandstand-like platform at Clintonville Park in north Columbus.

At 2 p.m. the crowd had assembled, and by 4 p.m., it was eaten up.

"I don't know about stomach aches, I just know it was there and then it was gone," Louis said.

Alcohol heaters warned the creation that consisted of 471 pounds of dough, 221.9 pounds of tomato sauce, 290.5 pounds of cheese and 75.1 pounds of pepperoni.

The pizza makers proclaimed it the "world's largest pizza" according to the Guinness book of world records.

Let's keep America the land of opportunity.

Historically, America has been "the land of opportunity" But "opportunity" is becoming a threatened species.

The opportunity to work and to achieve a better quality of life is threatened by the increasing problem of energy supply.

The energy crisis that seemed so big and vague and far away gets closer every day. Industry especially has become acutely aware of energy shortages. And every business and industry in America depends on an ample supply of energy to provide job opportunities for a work force that increases by over a million every year.

It's ironic that the emphasis on natural gas price regulation and demands for immediate and far-ranging environmental controls on oil delivery dampen the very hope for a cleaner environment, for better housing. Because the solutions to most of our other national problems depend on having sufficient energy to solve them.

Standing still, or keeping things just as they are, may be fine for some people. But for all the rest who strive for the opportunity to better their lives, we must have more energy. More gas, oil, clean-burning coal and electrical generating capacity to keep America the land of opportunity.

Columbia Gas is working to help solve the energy crisis. There is still a lot of natural gas deep underground in America. Columbia is test-drilling to depths of nearly four miles for this clean gas energy. This makes the cost of exploration and discovery more expensive. But, when you consider the alternative of less energy, we think you'll agree the price is not too high.

COLUMBIAGAS

Gas is precious, pure energy... use it wisely.

Del Webb Succumbs; Big Baseball Name

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Del E. Webb, who parlayed his passions of baseball and carpentering into ownership of the New York Yankees and a hotel and construction empire, died Thursday at 75.

The Mayo Clinic, which made the announcement, was not authorized to release the cause of death, but a spokesman for his family in Phoenix said he had undergone surgery for lung cancer in March and died of complications after returning to the Clinic.

He died at Rochester Methodist Hospital.

Webb, once a semi-professional baseball player, was an owner of the Yankees when the "Bronx Bombers" were the most successful team in baseball.

He was born in Fresno, Calif., and spent much of his youth doing the two things he loved most—working with a hammer and playing baseball.

When his father's contracting, sand and gravel business failed, Webb quit school to work as a carpenter during the week and to pitch semiprofessional baseball on Sunday.

His baseball career was ended in the mid-1920s by typhoid fever and he moved to Phoenix for the dry climate.

A year later, in 1928, he opened a modest construction business which turned into a multimillion dollar enterprise.

In 1945, he returned to baseball by joining the late Dan "opping and Larry MacPhail in purchasing the Yankees. Two years later, Topping and Webb bought out MacPhail. They sold 80 per cent of the team in 1964 and sold the remainder of their interest to the Columbia Broadcasting System in 1966.

During Webb's tenure as a club owner, the team was the most dominant in baseball, winning 15 American League pennants and 10 World Series.

His assets included hotels, gaming casinos, office buildings and land developments, mostly in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii.

He was chairman of the board of Del E. Webb Corp., headquartered here.

One of Webb's best-known developments is Sun City, a retirement community launched near Phoenix in 1960 which now has a population of 32,000.

His will requested no funeral and that his body be cremated and the ashes scattered over Arizona.

Webb is survived by his widow, Toni, of Phoenix, and a brother, Halmer J. Webb, North Hollywood, Calif.

EPA Concludes Sampling Pollution Threat Survey

The sampling phase of a year-long assessment of the nutrients pollution threat to 20 Ohio lakes and reservoirs including Deer Creek has been completed according to Dr. Ira L. Whitman, director of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, and Major General Dana L. Stewart, the Adjutant General of Ohio.

"I am pleased the Ohio National Guard participated with the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency in a program of this importance," said Governor John Gilligan, emphasizing that the information developed should prove valuable to Ohio water quality programs.

Since May 1973, in a unique combination of forces, the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, Ohio National Guard, and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) have been tracking concentrations and sources of the nutrients phosphorus and nitrogen which can seriously damage water quality.

Kiwanis Tours Chemical Plant

TOUR—Robert (Bill) Vivian, plant manager of the USS Chemicals, Circleville Plant, welcomes fellow employees and local Kiwanians Ray Cundiff and Tim Stine to a Kiwanis tour of plant operations.

The Circleville Kiwanis Club met Monday night in their regular meeting place, The Pickaway Arms, prior to going to the USS Chemicals plant in Circleville for a tour of the plant that was planned by Ray Cundiff and Tim Stine.

Special guest at the Kiwanis weekly meeting was Alan Krieger, a student of West Georgia College, who is visiting Kiwanian Jim Shea.

Final plans were made by the Kiwanis House Committee, headed by Ed Farynowski, concerning the carry-in supper planned for next Monday night. According to Farynowski, all Kiwanians with the last name letters A thru M were to bring a meat dish and a vegetable dish, and all Kiwanians with the last name letters N thru Z were to bring a salad dish and dessert.

President Fred Bowers held a short discussion of his recent trip to Denver, Colorado, to attend the Kiwanis International Convention, and

The 12-month effort, now involving 27 eastern states and known as the National Eutrophication Survey, is sponsored by EPA. Eutrophication is the natural aging of lakes which can lead to lowered water quality and loss of recreational value. The process is greatly accelerated by addition of excessive nutrients.

Survey data will augment existing Ohio Environmental Protection Agency surveillance and analysis programs aimed at establishing water quality standards, developing water segment classification, establishing allowable treatment plant nutrient discharge levels, and determining land runoff pollution in various lake drainage areas, Whitman explained.

In the tributary sampling portion of the Survey, 126 volunteer Ohio National Guardsmen from 21 units drew 96 monthly samples throughout the state from streams flowing into the lakes under study. From their extensive sampling, the nutrient inflows to the lakes have been calculated.

"We congratulate the Ohio National Guard on the excellent job they have done," Whitman said. "The information gathered will greatly assist our efforts to clean-up Lake Erie and other state waters."

Municipal sewage treatment plant operators within the study watersheds voluntarily provided samples for analysis under arrangements worked out with the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

The survey has been a cooperative state-regional-federal effort towards the restoration and maintenance of the physical, chemical, and biological integrity of Ohio's and the Nation's waters.

Physical characteristics assessed in the survey include temperature, depth, clarity, conductivity, sediments, and drainage basin hydrology. The chemical parameters examined were dissolved oxygen, alkalinity, orthophosphate, total phosphate, ammonia nitrogen, nitrate-nitrite nitrogen, and organic nitrogen. Biological investigation include quantification of chlorophyll content of algae, density and identification of aquatic plants and algae, testing for potentially pathogenic protozoa, and algal growth response to various nutrients.

All information acquired in the Ohio study, as a portion of EPA's nationwide survey, will be available to the Ohio Agency during mid-summer.

Underwood Named New OEA President

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — E. Wade Underwood, former president of the Akron Education Association and teacher in Akron, took over as president of the Ohio Education Association during an instructor's convention in Chicago this week.

Underwood was elected by the association's 1972 Delegate Assembly in Cincinnati. He succeeded Donald L. Traxler of Ada as president.

Police Charge Pair In Robbery

A 23-year-old Chillicothe man, Virgil M. Detty, and a 17-year-old Circleville youth were charged by Circleville police in the daring theft of an air compressor and paint sprayer from the Buckeye Mart store, 201 Lancaster Pike.

Buckeye Mart manager David Bonar spotted the juvenile pushing the compressor from the store Thursday at 2:40 p.m. and questioned if it was paid for.

The youth told Bonar he purchased the $289 unit in the rear of the store and continued out the door.

Bonar checked with his employees and found that the compressor had not been purchased. When he returned to the front of the store he saw the juvenile and a man later identified as Detty loading it in the trunk of a car.

Bonar copied a description of the vehicle and its license number.

Police, searching the city for the car, stopped it 20 minutes later at Court and Franklin Sts.

Detty, the only occupant, claimed he knew nothing of the theft. But when Ptl. William Pontious found fresh paint scrapings in the trunk, he admitted his part in the theft.

Police found the unit in a ditch near a cemetery on Winstead Road.

Detty was released on $5,000 recognizance bond for the felony charge of receiving and concealing stolen property. The youth, arrested later at his home, was placed in the juvenile detention section of the Pickaway County Jail on a grand theft charge.

Police charged Russell (Peewee) Vale, 24, 712 S. Washington St., with possession of marijuana after a search of his home uncovered the drug in a dresser drawer.

He was arrested Wednesday at 7:50 p.m. The case will be heard in Municipal Court Monday at 10 a.m.

Thieves pulled a Citizens Band radio from the bracket of a pickup truck owned by the Wolfe and West Co. The antenna was also missing.

Three Circleville businesses reported breaking and entering attempts to police.

Lloyd Hill, manager of the Union 76 Station, 224 Lancaster Pike, said thieves tried to gain entry to a soft drink machine in front of the station Wednesday night.

The lock on the machine was busted and the door was damaged.

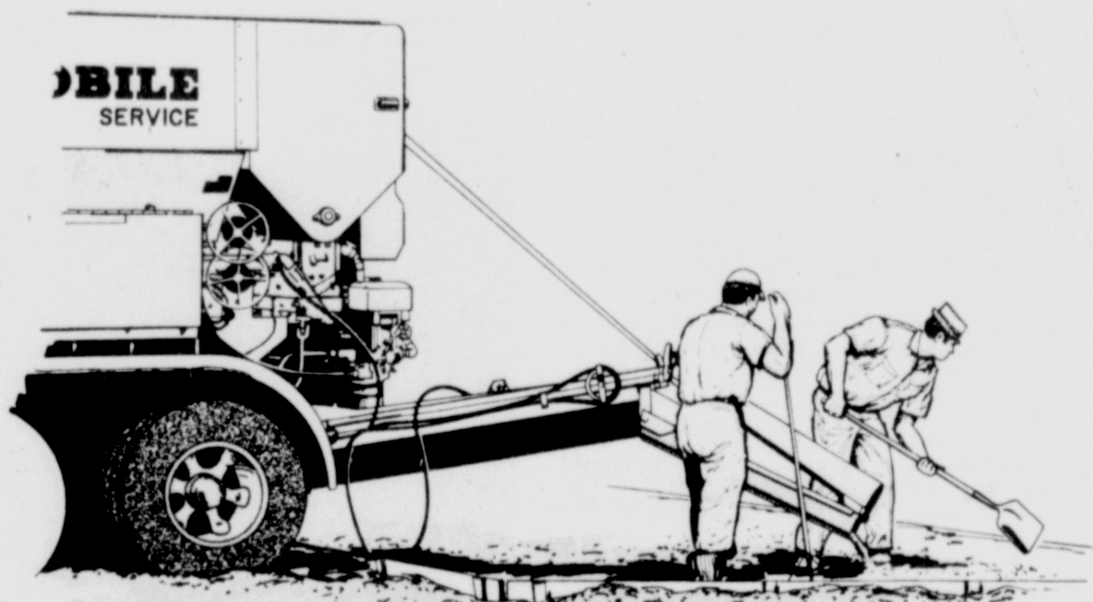

Jo Ann Brink, manager of Knights Travel Service, 206 S. Court St., told police that she found the gas meter key struck in the key hole of the rear door of the building.

Steve Olney, manager of the Short Stop, 495 E. Main St., found crates piled up near a fence in the empty pop bottle space near the rear of the store.

A security light was pulled from the wall and bent down in an apparent attempt to climb to the roof of the building.

Intha children in Burma learn to swim before they walk, with the help of water wings made from gourds. Mothers keep track of toddlers by tying bells to their ankles, National Geographic says.
